

How to Place a Free Temecula Post Classified Ad

If you haven't already registered, click on "Register" in the user menu (under the Temecula Post Logo), then fill out the form. It's simple, you'll only be asked for your email address (which we'll never share with anyone), then decide on a username and password. That's it!

If you have registered, click on "Login" in the user menu (under the Temecula Post Logo). You will then be prompted to type in your username and password.

Go to the category that you want to place an ad in. For example, if you wanted to sell a piece of furniture, you would click on the "4Sale" category, and then click on the "Furniture" sub-category. You will now see a list of ads that are already placed in this category. Click on "Submit ad" in the user menu (under the Temecula Post Logo). Now you'll see a form with the following fields:

Title

Place the title of your ad here. (This field is required)

Picture

You have the option to upload a photo from your computer. No more than one photo can be uploaded into an ad. (This field is optional)

Description

Place any descriptive text here. Type straight text if you wish. More advanced users may type html in this field. (Note: Typing html is a method that can be used to put additional photos into the body of the text).

If you're finished, click the "OK" button to submit your ad. Your ad will not be viewable to the public immediately, though you can see what your ad looks like by clicking on "My ads" in the user menu (under the Temecula Post Logo). You also have the ability to edit your ad further during this time.

A notice will automatically be sent to alert the site administrator that your ad has been submitted, and your ad will appear as soon as the administrator approves the ad. This will almost always happen on the same day that you placed the ad, though same day administrative action is neither guaranteed nor implied. Suffice to say though, it should happen pretty quickly. Once this happens, you will receive an auto-generated email notifying you of the administrator's action, and a link to the ad will be included in all emails notifying of administrative approval.

Any questions or suggestions may be sent to info@temeculapost.com